TIMBER COMMUNITIES AUSTRALIA APPOINTS NEW CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Timber Communities Australia, the national grassroots community support and representative organisation has appointed a new CEO to replace Jill Lewis who will be leaving on the 18th December 2007.

We welcome Jim Adams, former NSW State Manager to the role. Jim has extensive experience in representing communities and the timber industry. He has been a Forester and Local Government Mayor, and spent many years working in the plantation sector. He is across issues that are important to our membership and is extremely capable of representing timber families across Australia.

As we move through the climate change debate, TCA will have many opportunities to point out what we have always known – that our fantastic renewable resource will sustainably enhance our rural economies.

TCA wish to thank Jill Lewis for her dedication to our members and supporters over the last eleven years.
